Samim is also known as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. Born into a Swiss-Iranian Family, he was exposed to a wide range of musical influences throughout his life. Soon after discovering his passion for electronic music through Hip hop and Industrial music, he started to develop and enhance his renowned Syncopated Patterns and Hypnotic Rhythms.

Early on Samim joined forces with Michal Ho, producing a wide range of music under the "Samim & Michal" brand. After their first EP "Dini Muater" appeared on the Zuerich based label "Stattmusik" the duo was poised for success. They went on to release numerous EPs for labels like Tuningspork, Freizeitglauben and Kindisch, developing their trademark sound even further.

In 2004, due to a serious cancer illness Samim was forced to take a break just to reappear shortly after, more determent then ever and ready to take the next step in his career. In late 2005 he relocated from Zuerich to Berlin, opening up a whole new range of musical opportunities. Samim immediately tapped into the Berlin scene, initiating his most productive time so far.

At the same time he focused more on the Album format, producing two full length releases under the brands Bearback and Fuckpony.

After intense touring madness, Samim returned to the studio to record his first solo Album, "flow". The albums lead single "heater" rapidly went from underground hit to being the biggest dance music songs of 2007, getting re-released by ministry of sounds "data" label. Among a wide range of break out achievements, It was on heavy rotation on BBC1 and received over 5 million video views online. Following the successes of heater, Samim went on to remix the likes of Rosin murphy and Shaggy.
